Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention. The different species are illustrated in figs. 1-23. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no specific claim in the set of claims 69-125 has been considered to be generic to the distinct embodiments.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

For example claims 69-73 are directed to updating an overall image sphere on a page by page basis, and producing a graphical imagery depicting a panoramic image composed of a plurality of subsections.

Claims 75-77 are directed to a method for producing audiovisual effects by modifying an original television protocol.

Claims 106-111 are directed to a VTV graphic processor with a digital processing means for altering address mapping of data held in one of ARM and VRM.

Claim 118 is directed to means for performing a series of image analysis to calculate change in position of a video capture device.

Art Unit: 2621

The Examiner noted the above claims to show an example of some of the different species of the application.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
